THIS FLIGHT TONIGHT

THE Nazareth EXPERIENCE

Nazareth, formed in Scotland in the late 1960s, carved out a legendary place in rock history with their gritty sound, powerful vocals, and unforgettable anthems. Rising to international acclaim in the 1970s, Nazareth earned a loyal following across the globe, with Canada being one of their strongest markets. Their chart-topping hit Love Hurts became a staple of rock radio, and tracks like Razamanaz and This Flight Tonight showcased Nazareth's raw energy and unique style, cementing their reputation as one of hard rock's most influential bands.

Carrying that torch forward with passion and precision is This Flight Tonight – The Nazareth Experience, Vancouver's own Nazareth tribute band. Featuring members of original rock band Mad Symphony, the group delivers all the fire and authenticity of the original Naz. Frontman Kevin Wright channels the unmistakable raunchy vocals of Dan McCafferty, while guitarist Dave Groves captures the distinctive slide guitar tones of Manny Charlton with stunning accuracy. Rounding out the lineup are Amrit Prasad on bass, Ted Tosoff on guitars, and powerhouse drummer Ray Hartmann of Annihilator fame. Together, they bring Nazareth's classic hits—Razamanaz, Love Hurts, This Flight Tonight, and more—to life on stage.
